REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The prior art of record does not specifically disclose or remotely suggest

With regard to independent claims 1, 14, 27, and 29:

executing said applet instructions with the computing device to create a cache on the computing device that is independent of said browser cache;
said applet manages the contents of said applet-created cache and controls the persistence of said resources stored within said applet-created cache independently of said browser cache functionality.

With regard to independent claims 5 and 18:

downloading, from said server to said client, an applet including a caching and class loading mechanism;
using said caching and class loading mechanism to retrieve and load additional applet modules on demand.

With regard to independent claim 28:

downloading and caching, into said stream-created cache using said platform-dependent caching and loading mechanism downloaded by step (b), at least one further stream including at least one platform-independent functional module;
wherein said first stream execution manages the contents of said stream-created cache and controls the persistence of said downloaded resources within said stream-created cache independently of web browser control of persistence of items stored in said browser cache.

These limitations, in conjunction with the other limitations in the independent claims, are not specifically disclosed or remotely suggested in the prior art of record.

In addition, the Examiner points to Applicant's arguments (Arguments on 3/7/2005; pp. 12 - 17).

A review of claims 1 - 29, in view of the Examiner's arguments above and in view of Applicant's arguments detailed above, indicates that claims 1 - 29 are allowable over the prior art of record.

2. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
